FOUR LARGE CITIES

Place Stamp of Approval On "When Dreams Come True"—Successful Engagement Predicted.

"When Dreams Come True," the new musical play by Philip Bartholomae, comes to the Washington Theater Tuesday night direct from long engagements in New York, Chicago, Boston and Philadelphia. "When Dreams Come True" is new show to the country at large, the first year having been spent in the above-mentioned cities, which fact answers well for our own theatergoers. The play now comes to us stamped with the approval of four of our largest cities and this fact alone should tend to make the engagement here worth while.

"When Dreams Come True" is described as a musical comedy of youth, and as the twenty-four members of the chorus are still in their teens and the majority of the principals still under the 30 mark, it would appear that the managers of the company have made an effort to be consistent in the personnel of their organization.

The story traverses the adventures of a young American, Kean Hedges, who has found Paris so enchanting that his father has called him home. Being short of funds, he embarks for America in the steerage and there meets his dream girl. She is under the spell of a woman who wants to smuggle some pearls into New York. The conflict with the customs officer on the dock at New York, where Hedges chivalrously assists both of her difficulties, furnishes an element of melodrama to the story. In making his escape from the customs men the hero dashes into several complications and soon finds himself engaged to three young women. A confusion of identities helps tighten the story and various comic incidents help to round out the plot.

Several dancing numbers are introduced during the action of the play, and a dozen or more tuneful songs from the pen of Silvio Hein are sung by the principals and a large chorus. The scenic appointments are elaborate and in keeping with the story. The first represents a scene aboard ship, a massive picture populated with attractive immigrants. For the second there is a pier, photographic in its detail, even when so briefly inserted therein. The two remaining settings are interiors showing the interior of a millionaire's home in New York. One of these scenes, the ball room, is painted on silk and the furnishings are Circassian walnut.

The presenting company numbers more than fifty people, all of whom are well known in musical comedy circles, and the chorus has been selected with regards to their looks and ability to sing and dance.

BOY AND GIRL SCOUTS

Organization For Maysville Colored Children To Be Discussed Tuesday Night.

Editor Public Ledger:
A call to all colored boys and girls between the ages of 8 and 15 years, who are eligible to the boy and girl scout organization, are requested to meet at the Odd Fellows hall Tuesday night at 7 o'clock.

We urge upon parents who have children between the above stated ages to send their boys and girls to the room on the first floor of the building Tuesday night. The parents may accompany their children if they so desire. Help us in this laudable enterprise, as our city will have during the month of July ten or twelve companies of Boy Scouts encamped as our guests during the Grand Lodge meeting. Why should not Maysville have a company of boys to act as escorts to our visitors? Or a company of girl scouts to take part in the parade during this session. Our object is to perfect an organization of Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts for Maysville and each Odd Fellow and Ruth Sister will stand responsible as Big Brothers and Big Sisters to each of the boys and girls that go into this organization.

Let every one help us in our effort to pitch the standard a little higher for our boys and girls of this city, as all worthy characters will be accepted as members. Do not forget the time and place.

SISTER PROSTRATED.
Portland, Ore., December 3.—Never having used the final "e" in her own spelling of the word "corpse," Mrs. Marceline Germain, of Donaldson, Mich., was prostrated with grief upon receipt of an official communication announcing that her brother, Joseph E. Jollicoeur, had joined the United States Marine Corps and had named her as next of kin to be notified in case of death.

"If my brother is a corpse, of what did he die?" she wrote to Captain H. T. Swain, in charge of the local recruiting station of the United States Marine Corps, who had enlisted the man and was responsible for the notification.

The recruiting officer, by return mail, bade the sorrowing sister cease mourning, and assured her that the "corpse" to which her brother had later attached himself was the "livest" kind of an organization.

Remember well and bear in mind that the Women's Home Missionary Society will give a supper and entertainment tonight at the Bethel Baptist church. There will be a dollar hidden and the one finding it will receive its benefits. Let every one come out and engage in the hunt for the dollar.

"THE QUALITY GROCERS"

THE CORN MARKET.

(Flemingsburg Times-Democrat.)

It is hard to get a line on the probable course of the local corn market. Some sales have been made at 50 cents, some at 55 cents and some possibly lower than 50 cents in the country. If you have good, sound corn put in the crib in good shape, we would not advise you to be hasty in selling. We believe good corn will sell for 60 cents or more by January 1, and may go higher before spring.

RED CROSS SEALS

Help and Protect—Christmas Messengers Work the Year Around For Tuberculosis Sufferers.

How Red Cross Christmas seals not only bring comfort, but provide safety and protection for those who haven't tuberculosis? It is illustrated by a story which reached headquarters today.

Working as a compositor in a small newspaper office in an Indiana city, she fell a victim to tuberculosis through some one's carelessness. She was only 19 and the sole breadwinner for a little family group which consisted of herself and her grandparents. Her fellow workers noticed that her cough became chronic and that day by day she grew thinner and thinner, but she never confided her troubles to any one. She just "kept on the job." Through an unknown channel the King's Daughters learned of the case and investigation proved that the girl "sat" on a pallet laid on three chairs so that she could be near the two old people whom she was supporting.

Physicians pronounced her case hopeless, and she was refused admittance to the State sanatorium for early cases for this reason. She knew little about the danger of spreading the disease to others until recently, but she is now being cared for at home through Red Cross seal funds to prevent her infection from spreading to others.

Help the fight against tuberculosis by buying Red Cross Christmas seals. They are on sale at the following stores:

JUDGMENT REVERSED

Bourbon County Man Didn't Plead His Sense of Taste and Smell Were Impaired.

The judgment of the Bourbon Circuit Court was reversed by the Court of Appeals in the case of W. E. Henry, of Paris, against the Louisville & Nashville railroad, and a new trial was ordered.

The verdict of $13,500 was given Henry, who was a L. & N. brakeman. The Bourbon Circuit Court. Henry was struck and injured by the cable attached to a plow used in dumping cars on the double-tracking work then in progress near He failed to allege in his that his sense of smell and he was impaired by the injury, but he testified to that fact, and the Court of Appeals held that, as an act of these senses is a secret, the evidence of it might be admitted, and for permitting this testimony to go, the case was reversed, for Henry to amend his and make the evidence com-

BIG SHRINKAGE

Nicholas County Lands Seem To Be Shriveling Up Or Drying Up and Blowing Away.

Nicholas county must be shriveling up to judge by this item from the Nicholas Advocate.
"During the fall of 1914 A. J. Duncan sold his farm of eighty acres near White Chimney to Lee Vinson at $50 per acre. Vinson took possession March 1 and since then felt that the farm was rather small for an eighty acre farm. A few days ago he had county surveyor survey the land and was found to contain only 57½. Mr. Vinson now seeks to re-claim 1,125 as a result of the short-coming of the land to the land at the Clerk's office represent the to contain eighty acres. Duncan the land a few years ago from Barbee, who bought it from Rowe. The question now arises as to whether the former owners contribute to Vinson or will Mr. Duncan alone be required to pay the difference?"
